

JENT Bodywork 101 & 102

One Day Practical Trainings

Take One Day at a Time or Both Together

PARTICIPANTS

Are you interested in keeping your horse sound? Considering become a therapist, or already are one? These two days are a must to learn new science-based subjects and skills.

FOCUS OF TRAINING:

The focus of these Training Days is to:

- learn to communicate with horses in a therapeutic way. Learn how to let them tell you where their issues are.
- gain insights into how to assess horses for new or chronic physiological and physical issues that restrict individual biomechanics and cause anxiety.
- Participate in practical experience 'hands-on' techniques of massage, acupuncture and newer technologies of Phototherapy and the JENT Equine electric Massager.
- Take home full colour manuals and a happy horse.

TOPICS:

New Discoveries
Genetic vs Postural Conformation
Nature of Myofascia
Asymmetry Checks Causes & Impacts
Gait Signs of Lumbar Pain & Stiffness
Connecting with Horses Therapeutically
Hidden Injuries without Lameness
Fascial Patterns
Acupoints for Diagnosis & Treatment
Red Light Therapy Photobiomodulation & Photonic
Massage Hands-On & Electric
Specific Exercises for Fascial Restrictions

JENT BW 101 & 102 Sequence:

Training days must be taken in order. JENT BW102 cannot be taken before JENT BW 101. The topics are divided into the two days training sequentially.

PREREQUISITES:

Knowledge and application of basic safety around quiet horses.
Previous therapy experience is not necessary.

ATTENDANCE HOURS:

Starting time is strictly 8:30am in the classroom after visiting horses are settled into yards/stables. Teaching ends at 4:30pm. Discussion may continue.

COURSE INSTRUCTOR:

Dianne Jenkins Sutton NSW Australia

International Equine Performance Therapist & Founder of JENT Bodywork

MJENT (Master JENT Bodyworker), CVCP (Certified Veterinary Chiropractic Practitioner) MJRLT (Master JENT Red Light Therapist), ALT (Advanced Laser Therapist)

TRAINING ASSISTANT: Adrian Ljubic JRLT (JENT Red Light Therapist & JENT Bodyworker in Training)